Hi Jill,

Shellfish harvesting is only a sub-use of fishing and is only designated specifically in really small areas in the bacteria standard maps. EPA required us to identify shellfish harvest areas in the bacteria rule in 2015, but it wasn't a beneficial use distinct from fishing until then.

Hope that help.

Becky

Thank Becky. One question: why aren't there any X's for shellfish harvesting? Thanks.

Hi Jill,

They are hard to find. Here is a table that Standards put together to simplify things (just in case it is helpful).

Hey Becky,

I found what I needed, so don't worry about it. I think since the website was redone, Google couldn't find the tables, but Rochelle found them. Thanks!

Hi Becky,

I was looking for the specific language about the beneficial uses of OR marine waters. I found the beneficial use basin map, but not where marine waters are covered. Can you send me the uses? Thanks.
